

Cheap hotels in Madrid are pretty central. To find a cheap hotel in Madrid is easy although in recent years many of the cheaper hotels have been busy upgrading. Madrid's cheap hotels are pretty central. To find a cheap hotel in Madrid is basically a very straight forward thing although in recent years many of the hostels (Spanish=hostales), budget and mid-range hotels and other cheap accommodation providers such as apartments and bed and breakfast have been busy upgrading their facilities due to increasing competition. It is still true that there are rooms available as cheap as 30 to 40 Euro per night but the hotels offering rooms this cheap including a private shower for instance have become very rare. On the contrary you will have a good chance getting a nice and clean room at a good location with private bath for 50 to 80 Euro a night. However if you want to really enjoy your holidays in Madrid with all the comfort that a hotel usually offers you will have to be prepared to spend something around 150 Euro per night. A main criteria in choosing a cheap hotel in Madrid is its location.

Easy Online Hotel Booking

// Room Rates & Discounts

When you book online, many of the accommodation in Madrid will give you a discount because you are paying up-front. Some Hotels even allow you to book directly on their website, however most online travel experts like expedia, opodo, travelocity and many others are specialists in organizing the best bargains for their customers. Have a scroll through the kelkoo price comparison site for a couple of minutes and it will appear to you that special offers are updated on a almost daily basis.